SOUTHLAND URGED TO RAISE MORE LIVE STOCK AND TO DIVERSIFY STAPLE CROPS

Secretary Houston Advises Swine and Poultry as Factors in Cutting Down High Living Cost

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—In an address before the National Dairy Show Association today Secretary of Agriculture Houston called on the South to help solve the high cost of living by increasing the production of live stock. He declared that no southern state was giving adequate attention to foodstuff production. He deplored too great devotion to single crops.

Secretary Houston's theme was "What the Government is Doing for the Farmers." He said that while he does not advocate that the southern states should enter into competition for outside business with the middle and western agricultural and stock-raising states, he believes that it is incumbent upon every southern state to at least raise sufficient foodstuffs to form a basis for other agricultural industries.

He laid heavy stress upon the growth of a movement for a wider social life on the farm. He also touched upon the need of the increased production of wheat and forage crops, dairy products, fruits and poultry in America. In marked contrast he pointed to the decrease in a number of important staple food products, such as corn and meats. There has been an absolute decline in the last fifteen years, he said, in cattle, sheep and hogs.

Secretary Houston said that while the exact factors in this state's affairs are not quite evident, it is certain that we have been considering the meat supply too exclusively in terms of large ranches and large stock animals. He added that it is important that we should develop big ranches, but unquestionably the largest hope for the increase of the meat supply lies in three directions; first, the systematic attention to production of larger animals in settled farming districts, especially in the South; second, the increasing attention to smaller animals, like swine and poultry; third, the control and eradication of cattle ticks and hog cholera.

RESERVE BANKS WILL OPEN ON NOV. 16

$400,000,000 Reserve Cash Will Be Released on Date of Opening

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Announcement is made by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo that the new banking system will become operative throughout the United States on November 16. On that date the twelve federal reserve banks, located by the organization in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Richmond, San Francisco, Cleveland, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Atlanta and Dallas will be established.

At the same time the new reserve requirements for national banks as prescribed by the law will become effective, this releasing, according to Secretary McAdoo, more than $400,000,000 of reserve money and increasing the credit facilities of the banks of the United States by that amount.

Many of the directors, notably from the west, objected to the date recommended by Secretary McAdoo, suggesting that they would not be ready to begin business by that time. The question was put up to the directors, and by a vote of 37 to 25 they indicated a preference for November 30.

In a statement announcing November 16 as the date upon which the banks will become active, Mr. McAdoo said he was persuaded to his decision because of the emergency conditions in the south brought on by the unsuccessful attempts to continue trade.

VANDERBILT COMPETING IN ST. LOUIS HORSE SHOW

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—With the entire stable of Alfred G. Vanderbilt entered, competition between eastern and middle western exhibitors at the St. Louis horse show was keen today on the even of the opening night. Percy Vanderbilt will officiate as a judge of jumpers during the show. Charles Wilson will act as whip for the Vanderbilt entries.

Ten army officers in the vicinity of St. Louis will show their mounts and another exhibitor will be Miss Loula Long of Kansas City, owner of many famous horses. Edward von der Horst Koch, a German authority, will judge the heavy harness class.

CARRANZA NEAR TO LOSING HIS POWER

Peace Convention Expected to Depose First Chief at Today's Session

AGUAS CALIENTES, Oct. 26.—It was expected that Venustiano Carranza would be deposed as "first chief" of the Constitutionalists and as acting provisional president when the peace conference reconvened here this morning.

This ouster, according to unofficial announcement, will be accomplished through an agreement between the Villa and the Zapata delegates to the conference.

Twenty-eight delegates representing Emiliano Zapata, the Southern revolutionist, will be added to the convention roll when the sessions are resumed tomorrow. They have come by request of General Villa and will act with the Villa delegates.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26.—"First Chief" Venustiano Carranza in a six-thousand-word proclamation to the people of Mexico today denounced General Villa as the principal and original disturber of the peace of the country.

MARTIN'S CAMP IS SWEEPED BY FLAMES

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Martin's Camp, a summer resort near the summit of Mt. Wilson, was almost totally destroyed by fire this morning. Glen McFerran and E. D. Gray were the only persons at the camp. They narrowly escaped with their lives. McFerran was slightly burned about the face and hands.

A campers' fire is believed to be responsible for the destruction of the camp.

Reports are current, however, that Austria has agreed to let the occupation stand, if she can be assured that Italy will remain neutral in the present war.

COMPANY L RIFLE MEN COME HOME FROM STATE SHOOT

Captain J. L. McBride, Sergeant E. D. Christensen and Corporal H. G. Kirkpatrick are back from the competitive shoot of the National Guard at Sacramento from October 17 to October 23. One hundred and fifty men, three from each organization in the state, participated in the shoot, which was under the direction of and financed by the War Department. Captain McBride shot 49 out of a possible 50 at 600 yards and 200 yards and a possible score at the 300-yard range. The average for the entire course was 44.6 out of a possible 50 on each range.

The eight high men in each regiment shot for the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce cup. The highest man in the regimental team making the highest aggregate won the cup. The cup was won by Sergeant Brunner of the Second Infantry. McBride shot the highest score of the entire 32 men but the Seventh Regiment team did not shoot the highest aggregate score.

GAVRIO PRINZIP MOST TERRIBLE CONVICTED TODAY

Assassin of Ferdinand, Heir to Austrian Throne, Fired Shot That Was War's Excuse

SARAJEVO, Austria (via Rome), Oct. 26.—Gavrio Prinzip, the Serb who assassinated Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, and his Morganic wife, the Countess Chotek, were convicted here today of high treason.

Twenty-three of Prinzip's co-defendants were convicted of complicity in the assassination plot. All will be sentenced Wednesday. The general expectation is that all of the men will be summarily put to death.

The bullet fired by Prinzip furnished the excuse for the monster European war that is devastating the old world. It was claimed by the Austro-Hungarians that the shot practically came almost straight from the Serbian government. Within twenty-five days after the assassination, Austria-Hungary sent a note of demands to Serbia, the outcome of which resulted in the war conflagration now raging.

SLAUGHTER OF CONFLICT

Terrific Fighting in North Today; Thousands Wounded Germans Drown in Morass

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Terrific fighting continued tonight in Northern France and Belgium, where the allies are struggling to stem the German advance which recently succeeded in crossing the River Yser. Dispatches this afternoon declare that the slaughter is the most terrible of the war on both sides. Heavy rains are again falling, making a morass of the country which had already been flooded by the allies. Thousands of Germans who had been wounded in battle are reported as having drowned while trying to penetrate the submerged lowlands, while the invaders failed to force their heavy guns through the morass.

The French offensive movement on the allies' right wing, which is trying to find a vulnerable spot on the German line, weakened through transfer of men to the west, assumed greater proportions tonight. Furious attacks are reported on the German positions on the Argonne and Woivre regions, though the German artillery is continuing its attempts to reduce the Verdun fortresses. Unofficial reports are to the effect that the allies are planning an attempt to flank the Germans where they have been driven back from the North Sea coast. The success of such a movement, it is believed, would end the coast campaign, but a failure would leave the flanking force open to an attack which might drive them into the sea.

The conscription suddenly tonight. Rumors are afloat that important events are impending, supposedly at the northwestern end of the fighting line.

IRELAND HAS SENT 35,000 MEN TO WAR

BELFAST, Ireland (via London), Oct. 26.—That Ireland would maintain her place as a fighting nation was the declaration of John E. Redmond, Nationalist leader, in addressing a meeting of volunteers here Sunday.

"Ireland's rights," said Mr. Redmond, "are not to be defended merely within the Irish shores. If the manhood of Ireland refused to strike a blow where real fighting is going on, the country would be covered with disgrace. Ireland would be humiliated if, after the war, it had to be admitted that the safety and liberties of Ireland had been guarded by the sacrifices of other men while Irishmen remained at home and took none of the risks."

Thirty-five thousand men from all parts of Ireland have joined the army since the beginning of the war, Mr. Redmond added.

BIG FIRE RAGING ON SANTA ROSA RANCH

A great volume of smoke is visible from Santa Ana, off to the southeast. It is coming from a big fire in the mountains of the Santa Rosa ranch near Murietta. The ranch yesterday burned off Squaw Mountain and today its men are at work in the head of Wild Horse and Alamo Canyons. The brush is being burned to better the ranch for stock raising.

ALLIES LAUNCH TERRIFIC ONSLAUGHT WITH HOPE OF BEATING BACK GERMANS

On Offensive Also All Along Battle Front—Bavarian Aid Effects Teuton Victory on the Yser River

PARIS, Oct. 26.—A savage onslaught by the allies' right is being made today against the German front in the hope of forcing the invaders to retreat in their attack on desolated Belgium. The allies are also directing an offensive movement against the Woivre and Argonne districts.

The recent German crossing of the river Yser is believed to have been made possible through the shifting of the Bavarian troops from their left into Belgium. These when supported by fresh levies from Berlin and Cologne, penetrated across the stream.

The Bavarian movement, however, weakened the German left, against which the allies have directed a terrific assault.

A strip of coast three to five miles wide between Ostend and Nieuport has been cleared of Germans by the deadly enfilading fire of the British ships off the shore in the canals.

Though the Germans succeeded in crossing the river Yser Saturday in considerable force, after a week of violent fighting, they have failed to follow up their advantage, according to official communication this afternoon by the Bordeaux war office. The allies' line remained intact before the German advance, it is asserted. German losses in winning across the Yser are referred to in the statement as being "considerable."

"During the day," the statement continues, "our front has been maintained. Our line now extends in a general way from Nieuport through Dixmude to the region between Ypres and Roulers, thence to points between Armentiers and a little west of La-Basce, west of Lens and in the vicinity of Arras. From these neighborhoods the line is prolonged to southward along the front already known. "In Russia, west of the Vistula and north of the Pilica, the Germans have been thrown back and their advance positions taken by the Czar's troops at the point of the bayonet."

BERLIN, via The Hague and London, Oct. 26.—Duke Ernest Gunther of Schleswig Holstein, brother-in-law of the German Emperor, has been appointed assistant to the governor general of Belgium. The duke is well acquainted with Belgium as he spent a long time in that country years ago.

Commander Lueddecke of the cruiser Karlsruhe, which has sunk many British ships on the Atlantic trade routes, has been promoted to the rank of captain. Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz, governor of Belgium, has visited Cardinal Mercier, who promised to use his influence to restore order and reassure the population, says a dispatch from Brussels.

WRECKED KARLUK SURVIVORS SAVED

8 Officers and Men Rescued From Wrangell Island Land at Esquimalt

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 26.—The United States revenue cutter Bear arrived from Nome, Alaska, yesterday bringing Capt. Robert A. Bartlett, master of the wrecked steamer exploring ship Karluk and eight Karluk survivors, who were taken off of Wrangell Island by the power schooner King and Winge, which transferred them to the Bear in the Arctic. Capt. Bartlett and his men were landed at Esquimalt and the Bear proceeded tonight for Seattle with forty-eight officers and men rescued from the United States revenue cutter Tahoma, which was wrecked last month on a reef in the Aleutian Islands.

The survivors of the Karluk, who were stranded at Esquimalt with Capt. Bartlett, were William Laid McKinley, magnesian; Clyde Bank, Scotland; John Munroe, chief engineer; Robert Williamson, second engineer; Fred W. Maurer, fireman; Robert Templeman, steward; Ernest Chase, assistant steward; John Hadley, seaman, and H. Williams, seaman.

Of the twenty-eight brave men who sailed from Port Clarence, Alaska, July 27, 1913, for the Arctic Ocean on the steam whaler Karluk, a wooden vessel of 320 tons, eleven perished. Eight, including three of the scientists, were lost on the ice after the Karluk was crushed, and three others, including two scientists, died on Wrangell Island and were buried there.

15-YEAR-OLD GIRL OCCULTLY SLAIN

South Bend Sleuths Probing Murder of Hazel MacLin Found Dead Sunday

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 26.—The police admitted that there has been no progress today in the search for the murderer of Hazel MacLin, aged fifteen, whose body was found yesterday in a vault on the picnic grounds near here, following her disappearance several days ago after advertising for a position. A man telephoned an answer to the advertisement offering a position on a farm, and saying he would meet her at the picnic grounds. Several suspects are under surveillance, but there are no promising clues. Private detectives have been employed by the girl's wealthy uncle who is aiding the police in the search for the murderer.

MRS. CARMAN IS RELEASED ON $20,000 BAIL

Action Follows Disagreement of Jury; Accused Woman Weeps Over Result

MINEOLA, L. I., Oct. 26.—The Carman trial struggled to an end at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when the jury, looking much haggard and considerably perturbed after thirteen hours and fifteen minutes of fruitless wrangling, came into the supreme court room and reported a disagreement. They had been ten for acquittal and two for conviction.

Mrs. Carman was admitted to $20,000 bail today and released to go home a free woman except for the psychological bondage which will probably come from the knowledge of a murder indictment hanging over her head much as a noose might hang around her neck.

The present district attorney of Nassau county, however, says that he will never press the case to a retrial unless new evidence comes to light from the general mystery.

The two men who hung the jury were Joseph Ashton, a Port Washington publishing house manager and William G. Hovey, a salesman. The ten men for acquittal at one point in the heated argument threatened to throw Ashton "out of the window," but Hovey, a powerful man, ranged himself alongside the threatened man and prepared for an assault, which did not materialize.

Mrs. Carman collapsed as the verdict was announced by Judge Kelby, weeping bitterly.

Mrs. Carman arrived at the court house from the jail at 10:40 o'clock today and was escorted into Justice Kelby's chambers where her attorneys waited. Her bail was signed by Ernest Randall and Smith Cox, neighbors of the Carmans. District Attorney Smith appeared at the proceedings but offered no opposition. Immediately after the proceedings were over Mrs. Carman started for her home in Freeport in an automobile.

HOPE TO HAVE BOULEVARD IN USE BY JUNE

Part of Coast Road Now Under Construction; More Soon to Start

Work on the new Orange county coast boulevard which is to connect all of the beach towns and resorts along the south coast is progressing favorably. A large force of men is now busy on the macadamizing and improving of the right of way through Seal Beach, from the Los Angeles county line, where that system of good roads now stops, to Anaheim bay. Another force is now engaged in the removing of the sand dunes and making of the road bed between the bay and Los Patos, through Sunset Beach, and it is expected that all of this section of the boulevard will be completed by Christmas.

The timbers for the bridge that is to span the mouth of Anaheim bay are now on the ground and work will be soon started on the structure.

This first section of the boulevard is very much in demand at the present time owing to the large number of duck hunters who are in the habit of visiting the various clubs that lie back of Sunset Beach, and who are looking forward to the motor trip to the hunting ground.

Surveyors are now going over the next section to be built lying between Huntington Beach and Newport, and actual construction of this part will probably be started in a short time. It is planned if possible to have the whole boulevard completed by next June, so that visitors to this section may have the pleasure of a fifteen-mile tour along the ocean front.

At Sunset Beach the boulevard work has caused quite an activity. The big dredger has up to the present time cut out over 1000 feet of the main channel that is to run the entire length of the resort, and has made about fifty new lots.

THEY WERE NOT WELL INFORMED

With reference to the statement published in Saturday's Register as "authorized publicity," touching the Chaffee-Hartman controversy, attention should be called to the fact that the method used is not in any sense fair or reliable.

A certain number of men signed the statement who had no knowledge whatever of the facts involved, except on hearsay evidence, and some of them have so admitted and others of necessity would have to do so.

Mr. Inwood states that he has never met Mr. Chaffee, hence this attempt to use his influence against Chaffee has no weight, when it comes to any knowledge he possesses of Mr. Chaffee's qualifications. He was not present at either of the meetings mentioned, and has nothing but hearsay knowledge of anything which happened.

Mr. Tedford has stated to Mr. Chaffee that he had no knowledge of the facts, except on hearsay evidence.

W. G. Johnston, of Buena Park, and S. M. Craddock, of Orange, have nothing but hearsay knowledge of alleged facts. The same is true of nearly all of the names. These men knew that they were acting on hearsay; their names were obtained improperly.

The meeting held in Santa Ana on June 28 was called as a Dry Federation meeting, at which an attempt was made to get the Federation to consider an "Independent" candidate. The man who made this attempt was "called down," because the Federation could not honorably show any preference for party or candidate. The meeting formally adjourned and then considered the matter. It was understood by the chairman and secretary of this meeting that the sole object in mind was to make sure that there would be one dry candidate for Assembly. They say:

"As chairman of the meeting at which it was advocated that there should be a dry candidate in the field for State Assembly; I felt that the only purpose was that the dry voters might be assured of a strong man that would represent in the State Legislature the sentiment not only of State, but of National Prohibition. Now it seems that the purpose of the few dominated the cause and forced the issue was to nominate a certain candidate and no other. Now these people seem to be trying to hide their purpose behind a mythical pillar of some one's bad faith or dishonesty.

The honor of Mr. Chaffee and his supporters and their names will remain in good repute after this contest as before our misguided friends tried to sully them. Without feeling or rancor toward any candidate or person, we are trying to elect a clean, capable man, whose life is an open book, and who was the first dry candidate in the field. In fairness, Edward Chaffee should receive the support of the dry voters.

"This statement is made that the voting public may know, by calm presentation, the real facts.

"B. F. BESWICK, Chairman."

"The sole object of the meeting, as I understood it, was to make sure that there was one pronounced dry man in the field, and the proposition presented was tentative and conditional.

EDWARD A. CHAFFEE, Secretary."

Mr. Hartman was in no sense in the field until the petitions were presented and accepted by him, since his running was conditioned upon a certain number of signatures and the assumption that there was no other candidate.

The letter contained the untrue statement that all other candidates were on the other side, and the petition was signed by hundreds who supposed that statement to be true. Its promoters knew it was untrue while it was being circulated.

Hartman accepted the proposition to run, after the Primary and about Sept. 1, when the matter was finally decided. It had been a tentative proposition till that time.

He accepted with the full knowledge that Chaffee had received the nomination on two tickets, and that he was dividing the dry vote in so accepting. A great devotion to a great cause would seemingly have prompted Hartman to refuse to run, when the matter came to him for acceptance after the primary, when there had been a dry man in the field for many weeks.

At about the time the Hartman petitions were first circulated Chaffee entered the field. There had been a prohibition candidate in the field since June 9. If Chaffee had not taken his place another man would.

Chaffee did write his name on a blank sheet of paper with other names as one to whom Hartman petitions could be sent for consideration, and with the understanding that the whole matter was tentative.

Since there had been a dry candidate in the field since June 9, the tentative action of the meeting on June 28 was improper, except on the assumption that the real purpose was to put two candidates in the field.

When Chaffee accepted the place of the man who had been three weeks in the field, he at once communicated with the Hartman supporters, saying that he could have nothing to do with that matter.

Almost immediately after accepting the place Chaffee and this writer had an interview with Hartman at which only the three were present. Chaffee proposed that the two men adjust the matter, in some impartial manner, as to which would run, so as to assure an undivided dry vote. Hartman declined. A second time there was a private meeting with Hartman. This writer was present. The same proposition was repeated. Hartman would not agree to settle the matter as between man and man for the sake of a great cause. He wanted to consult his committee.

If the committee of one man was consulted that of the other should be also.

The meeting with Hartman's committee had no power farther than discussion. The statement made in the Hartman Authorized Publicity is a half truth, which is always false and misleading.

The reason why Chaffee refused to trifle further was that Mr. Crawford insisted on reading the law governing candidates and interpreting it falsely. He and his party asked to have the opinion of a prominent Santa Ana attorney over the phone at that time. One agreed to pay the phone bill. Several members of Hartman's committee thought otherwise.

The law was interpreted to mean that Chaffee could in no effective sense eliminate himself from the race.

It was upon that interpretation of law that Chaffee based his final refusal to negotiate further.

HE WAS TOLD THAT HE COMMITTED AN ILLEGAL ACT IN SUGGESTING ARBITRATION.

He was and has always been willing to eliminate himself if an impartial arbitration should so determine and took the initiative in the matter. He could legally do this to an extent sufficient to practically eliminate himself and these men know it.

This meeting can honestly be considered only in connection with Chaffee's previous attempt to get an impartial adjustment, which had failed.

It was a hopeless matter to get any plan through two committees, while the two men, acting independently, could have reached an adjustment, had both been willing.

This writer puts his own name to this statement as to facts he knows, and believes it will have as much weight with thinking people as the statement of men who admit it was all hearsay with them, who throw mud adroitly, and who knew not what they signed.

Poly Plasters Quakers in Second League Game, 35-0

The Santa Ana Polytechnic football team won its second league game of the season by defeating the Whittier eleven on their own grounds by a score of 35 to 0, Saturday.

From the first the Whittier boys were outclassed, not in weight, but in playing, the Santa Anas showing marked superiority at every move.

The Crimson and Whites won the toss and kicked to Whittier. Santa Ana gained possession of the ball on downs and ran the ball to the Whittier two-yard line, where it was lost on downs.

Whittier punted. Santa Ana ran Morrison over for the first touchdown. Irvine kicked the goal, making the score 7 to 0.

Stags Win in Ninth After Exciting Fray

BY HOMER RUNNE

A little judicious use of the bludgeon in the ninth inning on the part of Salverson, Ortega, Duhart, West and Stevens was all that was necessary to turn the tide of battle from the side of the Exposition Park team of Los Angeles to that of the Stags, in an exciting ball game at Moose Park yesterday afternoon. Previous to this inning the score stood 4 to 3. When the gentlemen aforementioned got through with their little walloping campaign the score was 4 to 5. Also, previous to the last frame, it looked very much as though the foe would leave our fair city winners. But you never can tell about the old game, as was proven by the biffing rampage the Stags pulled off in the final session.

Salverson hurled shut-out ball until the eighth, the alien tally in the sixth having been amassed through an error by West, who relieved Brown in that inning. Pete, Pete, how canst thou do it? Time was when thou didst not boot the ball in the fashion of yesterday.

The Stags ran along so smoothly running ball bearings until the fatal eighth, putting a man across the glad pan in the first, third and fourth. In the first Brown garnered a nice hit with two down and pilfered second. Stevens was safe and went on to second on an error by Wirshing, Brown scoring.

The run in the third was also made after two were out. Brown walked and stole. The mighty Stevens busted loose again at this juncture, prodding out a double, scoring Brown. Leake popped to Firman.

In the next inning, it was Callan who started the stuff by biffing out a two-sack clout and going to third when Hastings threw to Curtis who fondled the pill affectionately and much too extensively to prevent Callan scoring. The foe gathered a tally in the sixth through the error by West, as before

REASONS WHY R. Y. WILLIAMS SHOULD, AND ALMOST SURELY WILL BE ELECTED AS JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT

R. Y. WILLIAMS

THERE are three fundamental requirements the lawyer who aspires to be a Judge should possess. First, honesty; second, a well developed faculty to weigh two sides of a question; and, third, a thorough knowledge of the law.

That R. Y. Williams possesses these three qualifications in a much greater degree than the majority of attorneys is enthusiastically claimed by his supporters, and is conceded by all who wish to do him justice, whether for or against his candidacy for the judgeship of the Superior Court of Orange County.

It is acknowledged by all that if he is not elected to one of the two judgeships to be voted upon November 3rd, his defeat will be due to political manipulation alone, and not to any lack of confidence of the voters in his honesty, or in his ability to fill the position acceptably.

Therefore, it naturally follows that there should be no question of his election. By our state laws the judgeship has been taken out of politics and made a non-partisan office, for the very reason that we want the best men to fill such responsible positions.

It is a safe prediction that the voters who have helped to put this law in our statute books will carry out the spirit thereof; which must inevitably result in the election on Nov. 3rd of R. Y. Williams to one of the two judgeships, by a large majority.

mentioned. Curtis was safe on Duhart's error. Wirshing and Curtis were out on a nice double play, Duhart-to-West-to-Leake. Hastings pried a double off Salverson. At this point it was that West, the rascal, let a grounder from Firman go through him, scoring Hastings.

The unkind action by West pained Salverson so that he was unable to keep the foe from garnering three runs in the eighth. Arvizio was in tact on Duhart's error. Hirsey, who, by the by, hurled quite some artistic ball for the allies throughout the fray, stepped up and poled a two-bagger, scoring Arvizio. Curtis singled, scoring Hirsey. Wirshing's single scored Curtis. Duhart perpetrated another error at this stage, Hastings safe and Wirshing on third. Stevens was wild with anger and annoyance by this time and prevented a score by casting Wirshing out at home in truly big league manner. Firman fanned and Dallas was out to Crawford. Come we now to the final session. Salverson singled. Ortega and Duhart sacrificed. Hirsey became a trifle nervous at this stage, donating a fatal walk to West. Stevens grabbed up his war club and tore up to the plate with scowling brows. He singled and scored Salverson, West on third. Stevens pilfered. Leake was safe through an error by Firman, West bringing in the winning tally.

The game was a first-rater, in spite of a few errors. The feature of the pastime was the catching of Stevens, who, besides his artistic work with the mace, made fourteen putouts.

SMALL FIRE STARTS IN JANITOR'S ROOM AT COURT HOUSE

George Benedict, janitor at the courthouse, is out a pair of overalls and some bedding as the result of a fire that started in his room at the courthouse this morning. J. F. Kinley, day janitor, is out a pair of overalls also.

The janitor's room is on the first floor. This morning when Benedict left for home he pulled off his overalls and put them on a hook above the couch. It is thought that in some way matches were started to burning in a pocket of the clothing. A few minutes later the gardener noticed smoke and gave warning to Kinley. Kinley found the room full of smoke and the couch and clothing afire. A couple of buckets of water put out the flames.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if
Back Hurts or Bladder
Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

For Governor and

THE UNIVERSITY BONDS

When a private corporation, or even an individual, is confronted with the need to extend its capital account, whether such extension takes the form of a new factory, new locomotive and bridges or a new house to live in, the investment is rarely if ever made from current revenues or income, but is distributed over a period of years, either through bond issue or mortgage.

When the state, however, undertakes to increase its capital account, meaning its investment in needed permanent improvements there are often many persons who profess to believe that if current revenues are insufficient the needs should wait until such time as the money is available. A prudent view suggests to such persons, if they are tax payers, the wisdom of the corporate financial practice of equalizing the burdens of such investments. Public indebtedness if rightly incurred and for proper purposes is the sign of an intelligent and progressive commonwealth.

For example, there is before the voters of California in the November election a proposition to issue $1,800,000 in bonds bearing interest at 4 1/2 per cent, to provide new permanent buildings urgently required by the University of California. If this proposal, which is Number 11 on the ballot, is ratified by the people, the University can take care of immediate needs and prepare itself to meet the demands of increased attendance in the years to come.

If the bond issue is not carried the University must do without, which would be a real calamity affecting every interest in the state, or it must contrive to get along on the piecemeal appropriations that the legislature is empowered to make and the size of which will necessarily be too small to care for any of the contemplated improvements.

If it is granted that the necessity for the buildings exists, and on this point no protest has been voiced from any source, it must be plain that the only sound means of financing the University's needs is that which is proposed, namely, a bond issue distributing the burden equitably over a term of years, following the practice of private enterprise. Such a method does not penalize the tax payer of today, nor does it lay up a debt for a generation which will not participate in its benefits. Rather will the next generation be grateful to the present for building up a great University for its use, and will thankfully assume the burden of the bonds.

The individual tax payer should remember that the proposed issue of University bonds adds nothing to his rates, by reason of the separation plan in effect in this state, which provides that the state revenues shall be derived from corporations only. The managers of the large California corporations without exception have endorsed the proposed issue of University bonds, showing their willingness to assume on behalf of their companies the burden that is placed upon them.

This explanation is entered upon with a view to dispelling the small opposition heard from time to time. There is every reason to believe that the mass of voters who appreciate the situation on the University campus at Berkeley will not hesitate to approve the bonds by voting "Aye" opposite Number 11 on the ballot.

Will the Electors of Other Parties Vote for Johnson?

(Answer by Rev. E. J. Inwood, Republican, Pastor First M. E. Church, Santa Ana.)

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 24, 1914.

Mr. John Beatty,

President Johnson-Eshleman Club, City.

My Dear Sir:—Please enroll me as a member of the Johnson-Eshleman Club. I am a Republican, and have been for many years, but am one of those who think good government is infinitely more important than partisan success.

The past four years have seen a state government devoted to the best interests of the people that is unparalleled in Californian history. When in the Owen's River Valley, two months ago, I learned from its citizens that the railroad commission had cut the Southern Pacific rates into that section 40 per cent. Imperial Valley can tell the same story. When I came to Santa Ana two years ago the electric light rate was 10 cents. How is it that it is 7 now? My long-distance telephone calls have been similarly reduced.

No man can have my support whose bosom friends are Senator Wright of San Diego and Eddie Wolfe of San Francisco, and who stands on a platform these men have made.

I have been in the state 30 years, and more humanitarian laws have been passed, and more good accomplished in the last four years than in all the preceding twenty-six.

When I see men discharging their duties honestly, fearlessly, lifting this state from the slough of political faith that made her a stench and a byword under the old regime, and making her the leader in the great reforms of today, I say that with all my power, by my voice and by my vote I will stand by them.

Yours for government of, by, and for the people,

EDWIN J. INWOOD.

Fredericks' Final Meeting in San Francisco Proves a Real Frost

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—John D. Fredericks has gone back—way back—in the city of San Francisco.

Wednesday night in Dreamland Rink Fredericks had his one big meeting of the final campaign for San Francisco. It was an eye-opener to the Fredericks stalwarts—the kind that opened their eyes with surprise and pain, and made the Fredericks bettors plan to copper their bets.

Before the primary election Fredericks had another meeting in Dreamland. It was a really big meeting. The place was jammed. There wasn't a vacant chair. The Fredericks press agents exploited it as a throng of six or seven thousand. It probably was nearly 5,000.

But Wednesday night, with election day only 12 days ahead and interest keyed close to its maximum pitch, Fredericks drew a smaller crowd than he did before the primary. It was fully 500 people less—maybe a thousand.

Slathers of money was spent to drum up an enormous throng for Wednesday's meeting of General Otis' personally-conducted candidate.

Many Empty Seats
But Fredericks did not draw his crowd according to schedule. He looked into hundreds to vacant seats. He saw row after row of empty benches in the galleries that were filled in his primary meeting when interest was tepid.

At the primary election Fredericks got 11,373 votes in San Francisco out of something over 90,000 cast. Reducing the captain's vote on the proposition of his depleted audience last Wednesday night he will get about 10,000 votes in San Francisco. The registration in this city is 160,000.

"Curtin will get some votes, of course, so naturally we do not claim that Johnson will get all of the remaining 150,000," said the governor's supporters who looked on Wednesday night with unbecoming smiles at the busted boom of Fredericks.

Captain Fredericks applied all the arts of his mellifluous voice to set the rafters ringing with applause. His men had planted claquers in the corners. A leather-lunged ballyho man called for three cheers "for our new governor." The response was feeble.

They tried to raise the audience to its feet when Fredericks was introduced. Twenty-eight people stood up. Even when the band played a patriotic air only a few hundred rose. The main audience never left its chairs throughout the meeting.

"Gee!" Says Fan

A quartet sang a song about "Our Own John D. He's a Prince of Good Fellows," but the crowd thought they referred to John D. Rockefeller and the applause was scant.

They asked the crowd to join in and sing, but the quartet got way ahead of the crowd, hardly anybody sang in tune. "Our Own John D." twisted uncomfortably in his chair and tried to smile like a prince of good fellows, and some of the irreverent laughed out loud.

Then Jondoe sailed into his speech. It wasn't very easy sledding for only about a third of the crowd seemed to be with him. Once in a while there was a ripple of polite applause.

"Gee," whispered a baseball fan. "One guy cheered back there and they were going to arrest him for disturbing the peace."

"The issue in this campaign is not who passed certain laws but whether California will be Republican," said Fredericks, and then he proceeded to show how much he meant it by spending half of three-quarters of an hour proving that Governor Johnson had always been against the eight-hour law for women and teachers' pensions, how he had nothing to do with the workmen's compensation act, how he had been a foe of woman suffrage, how General Otis, M. H. De Young and other noble Republicans had given the state the direct primary, a real railroad commission, a full crew law and about all the other measures which most of the people of the state either praise or blame Hiram Johnson for.

"That Isn't True"
When Fredericks said that Johnson had opposed teachers' pensions he was called. An earnest, gray-haired man stood up and said, "That isn't true." Fredericks said it was true and switched to something else.

And on woman suffrage he got it again. "Governor Johnson WAS for woman suffrage," interrupted a feminine voice, and the feminine voice was applauded, but Fredericks said he wasn't and ran along with his speech.

A few people trickled out during most of the speech, and after he had talked over an hour with no indication of conclusion in sight there began to be an exodus. The patter of departing foot-steps almost drowned the Fredericks oratory.

But Fredericks was quick to catch his cue. He jumped from the three-quarter post to the finish in one leap. It took him just three minutes to wind up his speech. He saw that his meeting had slumped and he quit.

GOV. JOHNSON'S FINAL MEETING IN SAN FRANCISCO GREATEST IN POLITICAL HISTORY OF STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Ten thousand people stormed the doors of Dreamland Rink last night to hear Governor Hiram W. Johnson deliver the militant record of his four years' stewardship in the executive chair at Sacramento. And San Francisco gave Governor Johnson such a welcome as the city has not known within the memory of the present political generation.

It was probably the greatest political demonstration California has known. Today there is but one political theme on the tongues of men in San Francisco, regardless of party. It is:

"There is nothing in it but Johnson." Dreamland rink seats about 5,000. Half an hour before the meeting began the police were compelled to close the doors. Six thousand people were packed within the walls of the rink. Every aisle was jammed and every inch of standing space was choked. A thousand people stood in the aisles, hung over the rafters or gasped for air in the crowded corners during the hour and a half of the governor's speech.

On the outside the thousands kept pouring up to the doors. They even tried to batter the doors down.

An empty theater in the same block was hastily opened, and it was almost instantly filled. Fifteen hundred crowded in, and the governor spoke to them before entering Dreamland.

And still the crowd kept pouring up. Emergency speakers were rushed to the street, among them P. H. McCarthy, former mayor, and president of the State Building Trades Council, and Congressman John I. Nolan. The street crowd was a throng in itself. Upwards of two thousand people stood under the stars and cheered the Johnson speeches for two hours.

At least another thousand trooped up to the closed doors of the rink and the theater, and turned back to their homes.

"This is the greatest political meeting in the history of California," said Charles S. Wheeler, chairman of the main meeting.

It was a tremendous tribute to the man whom the people of San Francisco appear to have taken to their hearts. It was visible evidence that Governor Johnson has made good with the people of this city, and it bore out the prediction of Johnson's supporters that he will swing this city in his column November 3rd with something like thirty or forty thousand plurality.

The Fredericks and Curtin scouts who went to look on departed sick and sorrowing. Two nights ago Fredericks with far more advertising drew less than 4,000 in Dreamland and had fully 500 vacant seats staring at him. Curtin's crowd was even less.

Seated on the front row of the platform was former Mayor Edward R. Taylor, one of the leading Wilson Democrats of California, and beside him were prominent Republicans and Democrats by the score.

The building rocked with wild applause when the governor was introduced. Hats, canes and election cards flew up in a cloud of material enthusiasm.

"When Captain Fredericks hears about this meeting he will go back to General Otis and surrender his sword," commented a humorist.

"Today I received word that the Southern Pacific Company has laid off 2900 men in its shops," said the governor. "Those in command say nothing, but their underlings are circulating the word that they cannot be sure of work as long as this administration is in power."

"I am glad at last that the hand of the old master is shown. It is merely a little political move, and the record lemons are sweet."

"For the year ending June 30, 1914, the Central Pacific paid an extra dividend of $14,000,000. It went to the Southern Pacific, which owns the Central Pacific. The Southern Pacific for the past year paid a dividend of $16,000,000 and carried $23,000,000 into its surplus account, bringing the total surplus up to $105,000,000. This last year has been the biggest year in the history of the Southern Pacific, and it has charged in this year alone $10,000,000 off to wear and tear of ten years that should have been distributed over ten years."

"I have been all over the state. I never permit myself any illusions politically. I never indulge in rash political prophecy, but I say to you tonight that this government is going to be preserved in California. This state is never going back to its political bondage. The fight is won, and we are going on to overwhelming victory."

Don't forget to vote for C. I. Pond for Constable.

What People Are Talking About

One of the Fishing Cranks: "Don't see why these auto stages don't live up to their beach time cards, or else announce a change in schedule," said a local fisherman today. "For the past three Sundays I've been getting up early to catch the advertised 6:20 stage to Newport, together with a number of other fishermen. One morning the first stage to leave went at 9:15; another Sunday at 7:50 and yesterday we all took the P. E. after waiting two hours for a stage. Mind, you, these stages circulate a time card announcing first stage at 6:20. Things are almost as bad on the return trip. Several times our party has had to wait for from two to three hours at the beach to get a stage back to town and then sometimes we came by P. E. or caught a ride with friends."

FORMER SHERIFF LACY MAKES A STATEMENT

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 24, 1914. To the Voters of Orange County: I have read the statement of Sheriff C. E. Ruddock in this paper of October 23, 1914, and wish to inform you what I said and told Sheriff C. E. Ruddock concerning the transportation of prisoners to the state prisons.

I told Sheriff Ruddock, among other things, that the State Board of Control would allow first class railroad fare for the transportation of prisoners to the state prisons, but I certainly did not infer nor say that I had or he could take or send prisoners to the state prisons by boat and charge the state with first class railroad fare and put the difference in his pocket.

VISITING CANDIDATE'S ADMIRABLE RECORD

Judge Lucien Shaw of Los Angeles, candidate for re-election to the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, was in Santa Ana today, greeting old friends. He was shown about the city by Attorney E. E. Keech.

Judge Shaw has served as Associate Justice for the past twelve years. Before that he served thirteen years as Judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county, with such distinction that he was nominated for the Supreme Court in 1902, with the united vote of the two contending factions in the nominating convention.

As Judge of the Superior Court in Los Angeles county, Judge Shaw decided the case determining the validity of the election making Orange county a county.

While on the Superior Court bench he came here and in one day settled the many conflicting claims which grew out of the erection of the county jail and the bankruptcy of the contractor. It was the opinion of the lawyers in the case that it would take two weeks to dispose of the matter.

While presiding in the probate department of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county, Judge Shaw introduced a brief, simple method of entering the records. This method has saved Los Angeles county thousands and thousands of dollars in recording fees.

In the great Pomeroy-Hooker case, Judge Shaw presiding, he wrote twenty-four instructions to the jury which on appeal were all sustained by the Supreme Court and copied and entered in the opinion. They became the basis of the law of underground waters in California.

IS CUT AND BRUISED IN FALL FROM AUTO

Strong, late his balance in some way as the stage was rounding the corner and was thrown to the pavement. He was unconscious when medical assistance arrived. He was taken to the hospital and his wounds dressed. He left the hospital this morning.

CRADLE ROLL RALLY

Children Give Cantata and Are Later Well Entertained on Crookshank Playground

The banner-Congregational Cradle Roll Society of Southern California held its annual meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church Saturday afternoon. Mrs. N. A. Beals, who with Mrs. Blake was responsible for the program, presided, speaking first of the successfully accomplished aim of the committee in securing ten new life members for the cradle roll, making twelve life members in all. The little folks then sang a little sunbysong, after which a number responded to the cradle roll by scriptural verses. Miss Berdenia Henry was called upon next to tell the children the story of "The Bird's Nest." The cradlers listened with wide eyes and open mouths as Miss Henry told them of the home of the Indian children with its attractive surroundings which is the nest place for the cradle roll money.

The program closed with a cantata by the children, "Teddy Bear and Arabelle," cleverly arranged by Mrs. Beals and Mrs. Blake. Teddy, and Arabelle, as well as the butterfly girls and soldier boys, did much credit to the characters they portrayed and delighted the audience.

A short business meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society was held after the program in which plans for the district missionary meeting to be held next Thursday in the local church, were discussed.

While this was going on the children were enjoying refreshments of delicious ice cream and cake served in the church dining room by the hostesses of the day. The children then spent an hour or more in play in the delightfully pleasant play garden of the A. J. Crookshank home.

Both old and young felt at the close of the afternoon that it would be nice if cradle roll parties came oftener.

Enjoyable Evening

One of the most enjoyable events of the church social season was held Friday evening when about thirty-four members of the Berean class of the First Presbyterian church met at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winans, 501 South Broadway. The house was artistically decorated with cactus and chrysanthemums. Important business was transacted, and a very interesting letter was read from Miss Grace Rowley, telling of some of her work as a missionary in China. New officers were elected for the coming six months.

The entertainment committee had arranged for several interesting games which were much enjoyed until later in the evening when tables were arranged so that the company seated as jolly families, enjoyed refreshments of tamales, sandwiches, pickles, grapes and coffee.

The merry company then departed, voting their host and hostess as royal entertainers.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. R. R. Shafer honored the birthday of her son, Aaron Burr Shafer, with a pleasant dinner party. It was the fifteenth anniversary of his natal day.

COMING MUSICAL EVENTS

Nevin Evening Nov. 25 by First Baptist Choir; Later Cantata to Be Given

Two important musical events are planned by the choir of the First Baptist church which are to be public affairs. On Wednesday evening, November 25th, which is the anniversary of the birth of Ethelbert Nevin, a "Nevin" evening will be given, the program to be Nevin's compositions exclusively, and will include his beautiful cycle, "Captive Memories." This entertainment will be free to all who wish to attend.

The second big event will be the production for the first time in Santa Ana of Donald McLean's beautiful Christmas cantata, "Bethlehem." The date for this has not been definitely fixed but is expected to be given on Sunday afternoon, December 27th.

HALLOWE'EN KENSINGTON

Delightful Afternoon Spent by Guests of Mrs. Black at Fourth Street Home

Mrs. A. C. Black of 709 West Fourth street happily entertained a large company on Saturday afternoon when she was hostess at a Halloween Kensington. The afternoon was initiated with a clever guessing game, and later, while the ladies were engaged with dainty fancy work, they were treated to a reading by Mrs. Louise Scarborough, "The Book Agent," and the telling of a Halloween story by Mrs. W. G. Gould.

Delicious refreshments were served on small tables on which were lighted candles shaded with yellow. Yellow chrysanthemums mingled with the Halloween decorations of the house and table, and cunning cards that marked the places bore pumpkin designs. The entire effect was a charming one.

The list of guests bidden to this pleasant affair by Mrs. Black included Meses J. D. Runyan, Otto S. Russell, R. E. Coulter, George W. Minter, E. G. Holmes, George Balderston, W. E. Winslow, W. A. Zimmerman, W. G. Gould, H. H. Reeves, Margaret Stewart, W. L. Innis, G. S. Smith, P. L. Pople, W. W. Crozier, C. E. French, J. E. Gowen, W. S. Taylor, F. W. Taylor, Louise Scarborough, Misses Teresa and Pauline Reinhaus, Mary Taylor, Adele Jones, Grace Whitted, Laura Taylor.

Miss Alberta Black and Miss Elsie Wingood and Miss Ada Borden served during the collation.

Family Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Wright, 331 G street, was the scene yesterday of a joyful reunion of the family of Mrs. Wright. Those of the family present besides Mrs. Wright were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ernest of 605 East Fourth street; her sisters, Mrs. Mary Gillette of Hollywood and Mrs. A. Flood of Santa Ana; her brothers, Will A. Moore of Santa Ana and Henry Ernest of Woodland, California. Others present were G. L. Wright, Fay and Burton Wright, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brannon, M. A. Flood, Miss Calla Gillette of Hollywood.

This reunion brought together the family for the first time in five years, one brother, Henry Ernest, having been in one of the Dakotas during that time. He is now located at Woodland. Dinner was served on two long tables, yellow chrysanthemums being used to develop the decorative scheme. Conversation was animated, as old days as well as the pleasant days of the present were to be talked over.

Mrs. Gillette returned to Hollywood last evening, but Mr. Ernest will spend a day or two here at the Wright home before returning to Woodland.

Mail Carriers Entertained

The rural carriers of Orange county met at the home of Charles Johnson, Santa Ana, Saturday evening. There was full attendance of the carriers and their wives. The regular routine of business was carried out. Owing to the resignation of the president, G. M. Tedrick, and vice president, Charles Hedges, there was an election for these offices. The new officers are H. T. Hammerschmidt, of Fullerton, president; and Earl Elliott, of Santa Ana, as vice president. After the election the company enjoyed a fine banquet and departed for their homes after thanking Mr. and Mrs. Johnson for the enjoyable evening.

NEW PASTOR IS CHOSEN

Congregationalists Call Rev. P. F. Schrock of Salem; Church Delighted

At a meeting held yesterday at the close of the morning service the members of the Congregational church extended a unanimous call to Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock of Salem, Oregon, to become their pastor. Mr. Schrock occupied the pulpit a week ago Sunday, remaining over in the city for a couple of days in order to make the acquaintance of the people and look over the field. It is confidently expected that Mr. Schrock will accept the call. The church has been without a regular pastor since the resignation of Rev. Fred Staff, which took effect June 1st. Since that time a dozen or more candidates have been listened to, but Mr. Schrock is the first one to receive the hearty support of the entire congregation.

Mr. Schrock is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary, and has held two pastorates, one at Deer Park, Washington, for five years and his present pastorate at Salem, Oregon, where he has been the past three years. He is a young man in the prime of life, a man of attractive personality, a forceful preacher, and one who has the reputation of "making things go." His family consists of a wife and a boy about six years of age. The date of beginning his work here is a little indefinite, but it is expected that he will be here about the first of December. The Congregationalists are delighted at the prospect of again resuming regular pastoral relations and are looking forward to a period of renewed prosperity and Christian activity.

Halloween Party

Miss Ruth Richards entertained on Friday evening with a Halloween party at the fruit street home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Richards. Yellow and black were used in the decorative scheme, golden-hued chrysanthemums being the flowers used. The guests were masked, and a prize was given by Fay Wright for the cleverest costume. He appeared as "Slim Jim." The evening was merrily spent with Halloween diversions, and a two-course supper closed the revelry. White roses adorned the tables, and a "witch box" yielded a gift for each guest.

The following were Miss Richards' guests: Misses Clena Scott, Lela Sebastian, Grace Gebhardt, Claire McChese, Cecilia Jacobs, Lizzie Rudolph, Francis Jacobs, Agnes Rudolph, Helen Garstang, Adabelle Sebra, Gladys Thomas, Cornie Woodside, Lela Thomas, Beulah Thomas, Josephine Stauts, Kate Stauts, Marguerite Wallace, Catherine Kramer, Hazel Shields, Cecil Fross, Pearl and Ruth Richards, Ray Minnix; Messrs. Templeton, Julian Matthews, Verne House, Roy Criddle, Ralph Best, Cecil Shields, Will Sebastian, Victor Garstang, Loftus Morrison, J. T. Sebastian, Orris Langenborser, Roy Sebar, Fay Wright, Johnnie Dearford, Jimmie Vance, Roland Wilkinson, Charlie Wallace, Frank Hill, Glenn Chandler.

As this will be the last meeting before the election it is desired that it be a well attended meeting as final arrangements for precinct work will be made. Everybody interested in California Dry should be present.

Beltz and wife and sons, Carl, Ralph and Glenn, and daughter, Lucille; Victor Finster and wife and daughter, Lois; Mrs. W. J. German of Tustin and daughters, Ethel and Wilma Burdett, and son, John; Frank Finster.

Charming Mountain Ride

F. H. McElree of the Santa Ana Paint Store took a party of young people to the tin mines in upper Trabuco canyon yesterday afternoon. The drive proved a most enjoyable one, as the heat, which was so noticeable in Santa Ana did not seem to reach that portion of the country. The canyon, which is always a delight to newcomers, presents a beautiful picture at present, the lustrous foliage of the trees and shrubs not as yet having changed, its harmonizing colors contrasting alluringly with the early appearing holly dotting the greenery here and there along the winding road.

The party was pleasantly entertained all the farther end of their journey by Harry Compton and his young wife who have charge of the tin mine property.

Important Y Meeting

All Y members are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. F. H. McElree, 606 North Ross street, at 7:30 o'clock this evening to discuss important business matters, the disposition of which will not require over one-half an hour's time.

Two beautiful birthday cakes with age and date of the honoree, adorned the feast at which were seated Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watson, Miss Christine Watson and Ralph Watson. IN THE JUSTICE COURT AUTO STOLEN TO HIE MAN TO BOUNDARY?

"Curbstone" Grant, for whose arrest it is said there is a reward out of $1000, is believed to have been taken to the Mexican boundary Saturday night by Hyman Brandt, a complaint for whose arrest was sworn out this morning by George N. Arnold, 941 Potter Park, Los Angeles. The charge against Brandt is that he stole Arnold's automobile, a seven-passenger Apperson, here Saturday afternoon.

Hyman Brandt and "Curbstone" Grant paid Arnold $15 to bring them to Santa Ana from Los Angeles Saturday afternoon. On the trip's arrival here Arnold offered to buy Brandt and Grant their supper. The two refused Arnold's offer, remaining in the machine at the corner of Fourth and Main streets while Arnold went into the Dragon to eat supper.

When Arnold came out of the Dragon he saw that his automobile had disappeared. Thinking that he was merely the victim of a practical joke, he paid no further attention to the matter and boarded a car for Los Angeles.

Early yesterday morning, not having had any word of his machine, Arnold long distanced to City Marshal Jernigan here, informing him of the events which had transpired.

Jernigan immediately set all the local officers to work on the case. It was learned that the machine had been seen at Newport Beach Saturday night. Other than that nothing more of the whereabouts of Arnold's auto could be learned. Arnold had also informed Los Angeles detectives of the case.

This morning at 2 o'clock Jernigan was called by long distance 'phone from Los Angeles and told that Brandt was being detained by the police at that city. The Los Angeles detectives inquired if they should hold Brandt, as no warrant had been issued for his arrest.

Jernigan gave the detectives instructions to hold Brandt on suspicion as Arnold had signified his intention of swearing out a warrant here.

Arnold came down from Los Angeles this morning and swore to the complaint against Brandt. Arnold drove the Apperson down. The machine had been driven back to Los Angeles late Saturday night by Brandt who had then called up Arnold and told him that the machine was in a garage on San Pedro street. The automobile was located in an alley.

When Arnold came here this morning he informed Jernigan that Brandt had acted in a very cocksure manner when he telephoned him Saturday night. Brandt had said to Arnold, "You can't do anything. There are two of us against you. The police department down at Santa Ana is a joke."

Arnold told Brandt that he would not think the Santa Ana police such a big joke by the time they got through with him.

The machine which Arnold drove down here from Los Angeles this morning was a far different one from that which he drove down Saturday afternoon. Brandt and Grant had taken off the top and numbers of the car. It was covered with a coating of red dust, which fact leads the officers to believe that it was driven to and beyond San Diego.

It has not been learned what charge is held against Grant. The police have the following description of the man:

He is described as being 28 or 29 years of age, weight about 150 pounds, height about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches. He wore a dark suit of mixed material and a soft hat.

Withholds Commitment
This morning Tom Litton, who lives on Walnut street, was arrested on the complaint of G. Bert Wallace. The charge was peace disturbance. Justice Cox gave Litton a thirty-day sentence and withheld the commitment, admonishing Litton to go hence and do no more disturbing.

Equal Also

Under Sheriff Law has locked up Pasqual Gutierrez, believed by Law to be ring-leader of a gang of Mexican thieves. Law had Gutierrez in close quarters several months ago, and has been watching him closely. Friday Law arrested Gregorio Garcia, father-in-law of Pasqual, on a charge of stealing a buggy from George Annin of Fullerton. The officers have found enough against Pasqual to take him to jail on the same charge.

Robbery Charge
Francisco Picote, A Nito and Florencio Lujan are in jail charged with robbing Jesus Flores at Los Alamitos of $124.

Attachment Returns
Returns of attachments have been made to Justice Cox in the action of the Orange County Garage Company against Dr. A. T. Vance for $29.30 and of the Merchants' Protective Adjustment Agency against Luther N. Lucas for $47.65.

MOTORCYCLIST IS INJURED ON BRIDGE

George Norman, an employee on the Henry Meyer ranch at Fairview, was severely injured when the motorcycle on which he was riding collided with an automobile on the Newport bridge yesterday morning and threw Norman against the railing of the bridge. Norman was taken to his home suffering from a lacerated wound on his left leg, a contused wound of his foot and a bruised hand.

DEPUTY KOEPEL AND BRIDE BACK FROM TRIP EAST

Crops Are Good, But Business, Especially Import Shipping, Dead

"Crops generally throughout the East are good," said Arthur E. Koepsel, deputy district attorney, who with his bride, formerly Miss Freda Holzgrafe, returned yesterday from a two months' honeymoon in which they traveled in thirty-one states and Canada, "but nearly everywhere we went we found business at a standstill, dead as a door nail. This was most noticeable at the ports. Great strings of freight cars and warehouses stood empty as the result of the falling off of the import trade, due to the European war."

"The 'Buy a Bale of Cotton' idea has taken a great hold in some of the southern states. Going along the street we saw signs on houses, reading: 'We have bought our bale of cotton. Have you got yours?' In front of each store was a bale of cotton and upon it a sign reading: 'This is our bale of cotton. Where is yours?' We saw all kinds of country, but we saw nothing that appeals to us like Southern California and Santa Ana."

Mr. and Mrs. Koepsel visited relatives of Mrs. Koepsel at Elgin, Ill., and near St. Joseph, Mo. In Chicago they were guests of Mrs. Elsie Delese, formerly Miss Elsie Harrison of Santa Ana.

"The most welcome things we saw on our trip," said the deputy district attorney, "were copies of the Santa Ana Register. Mrs. Delese and the folks down in Missouri both take the Register, and they had saved up the copies for us."

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy and abundant.—Advertisement.

The new fullback, Hamaker, showed up well, being responsible for many yards.

YORBA LINDA

$175,000 BONDS SENT UP IN SMOKE

Celebration by Land Owners of Yorba Linda Proved a Big Success

YORBA LINDA, Oct. 26.—The bond burning celebration was carried out here Saturday as per arrangements in full, and was in every way a great success. Several hundred citizens, property owners and friends of Yorba Linda gathered from various parts of Southern California to witness the unique event.

A generous luncheon was served freely at the Yorba Linda school house from 12 to 1:30 o'clock, after which the Orange band rendered appropriate selections during the entire afternoon alternating with other numbers of the program.

Chairman Thomas B. Welch of the Yorba Linda Water Users' Association presided, calling first upon Senator William J. Carr of Los Angeles for an address, which was given and highly appreciated by his many warm friends. Mr. W. A. Barnhill, one of the attorneys who represented the promoters of the tract, also gave a splendid address from the standpoint of the defeated side. He was as always very frank and spoke in true effectual terms of the actual facts at the present time, and he was thoroughly enjoyed.

Judge W. H. Thomas of Santa Ana then gave the principal address of the afternoon. He was even more eloquent and entertaining than usual and held the attentive audience for over an hour in the consideration of important facts, pleasantries, and memoirs of the case recently held in his court.

The band music interspersed throughout the program was most enjoyable. The long-looked-for "bond fire" was the closing number on the list, and commemorated the destruction of the bonds and the victory of the citizens of Yorba Linda in their fight. Under the stipulated decree of the judge $175,000 in bonds issued by the Yorba Linda Water Company to the promoters were canceled and given over to the land owners, who sent them up in smoke.

PERRY MEMORIAL IS BEING RUSHED

Monument Towering Above Lake Level Most Perpendicular for Height in World

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio, Oct. 26.—In an effort to complete the huge Perry memorial monument at Put-in-Bay in the few remaining weeks before the close of lake navigation, workmen are rushing the work on the stone shaft, which will commemorate the victory on Lake Erie of Commodore Perry over the British naval expedition. Roy H. Robinson, the contracting engineer who is directing the work, now hopes to have the tower entirely finished by December 1.

The few privileged persons who have been permitted to go to the top of the monument, which towers 365 feet above the lake level and 337 feet above the ground at its base, pronounce the construction of the shaft a marvel in engineering. With a diameter of 45 feet at the base, the shaft slopes very gradually inward, until, at the top, it is only 36 feet in diameter. So slight is the angle from base to top, however, that the monument is said to be the most perpendicular of any equal height in the world. Just 17 feet from the extreme top of the huge pile has been built an abacus, with an overhang of 16 feet. This balcony is constructed of great granite stones, each several tons in weight. Forty-seven flights of stairs, winding round and round the inside of the shaft, lead to the abacus. Elevators will be installed later.

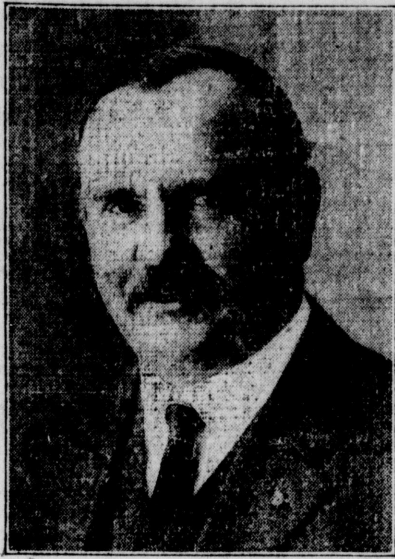

Chief among the tasks still remaining is the placing of the bronze dome which will cap the shaft. This work in itself will be an engineering feat that few could accomplish. The weight of the bronze cap is 40 tons.

It is declared that already Contractor Robinson has sustained a financial loss of $80,000 in the construction of the monument.

A WOMAN DOCTOR

says: "Eugenics is a necessary factor in the future of the race. The average American girl is unfit for motherhood." This may be true, but if weak and ailing girls passing from girlhood to womanhood, would only rely, as thousands do, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—that simple remedy made from roots and herbs—to restore the system to a normal healthy condition, it would cause many ills from which they suffer to disappear, so that motherhood might become the joy of their lives.—Advertisement.

SERVICE WORTH WHILE

FRIEND W. RICHARDSON
 State Printer Friend W. Richardson is to be thanked for the material reduction which it was possible for the State Board of Education to make in the price of text-books to school children. By his business-like methods in public office he has rendered a service of great value, for the benefits which the children and their parents will enjoy are attributable entirely to what he has done, the royalties and postage remaining fixed charges.

Mr. Richardson's work is all the more deserving of appreciation because of the deplorable condition of affairs that he found upon taking office.

It is with genuine pleasure that we commend Mr. Richardson's administration of his office. He has shown himself one of the most useful officials in the service of the people of the state.—Sacramento Union.

Mr. Richardson was nominated for state treasurer at the primary election by the Progressives, the Republicans and the Democrats; and he is entitled to the vote of every good citizen on November 3.

ARIZONA WOMEN TO "REBUKE" OPPONENTS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 26.—By wielding weapons placed in their hands by the granting of woman suffrage, Arizona women have undertaken the task of disciplining statesmen, politicians and others who had the temerity to oppose the equal suffrage amendment before the polls.

Headquarters have been opened for the Congressional Union of Women Suffrage, which is prosecuting a vigorous campaign among women to "re-buke" candidates who appear on the November ballot, who failed to support woman suffrage in the past. U. S. Senator Marcus A. Smith and Representative Carl Hayden, candidates for re-election, were expected to bear the brunt of the attack.

H. V. WEISEL FOR ASSEMBLY

The Register believes that all voters of progressive ideas, especially those who are supporting the candidacy of Gov. Johnson, irrespective of party registration, should support the candidacy of H. V. Weisel for the Assembly.

Mr. Weisel was sent to the Assembly by the progressive voters of Orange County—Republicans, Democrats and those of other parties—in order that the representative of this county might support the administration of Governor Johnson. Mr. Weisel made good. His record is absolutely clean and independent, loyal and true to the best interests of the state of California. On that record he ran for and received the Progressive nomination at the August primary election, and he is entitled to the support of all Progressives (with a big P) and all progressives (with a small p).

Mr. Weisel has the advantage of the experience of two terms in the legislature. He has the entire confidence of the administration and of his colleagues in both Assembly and Senate. He is a young man of unquestionable integrity, of unusual sincerity and frankness. He is a lawyer by profession, a man of pleasing personality, clean life and laudable ambition.

In the judgment of the Register, he is richly deserving of the support of all progressive voters.

THE WATER COMMISSION ACT

(By E. E. Keech of Santa Ana, Attorney for 2500 Actual Water Users, and Members of the Tri-Counties Reforestation Association)

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 26, 1914.
 Editor Register,

My attention has been called to some very unfair and misleading statements by agents of the power companies concerning the Water Commission Act, submitted to the electors by referendum and numbered six on the ballot to be used November 3rd.

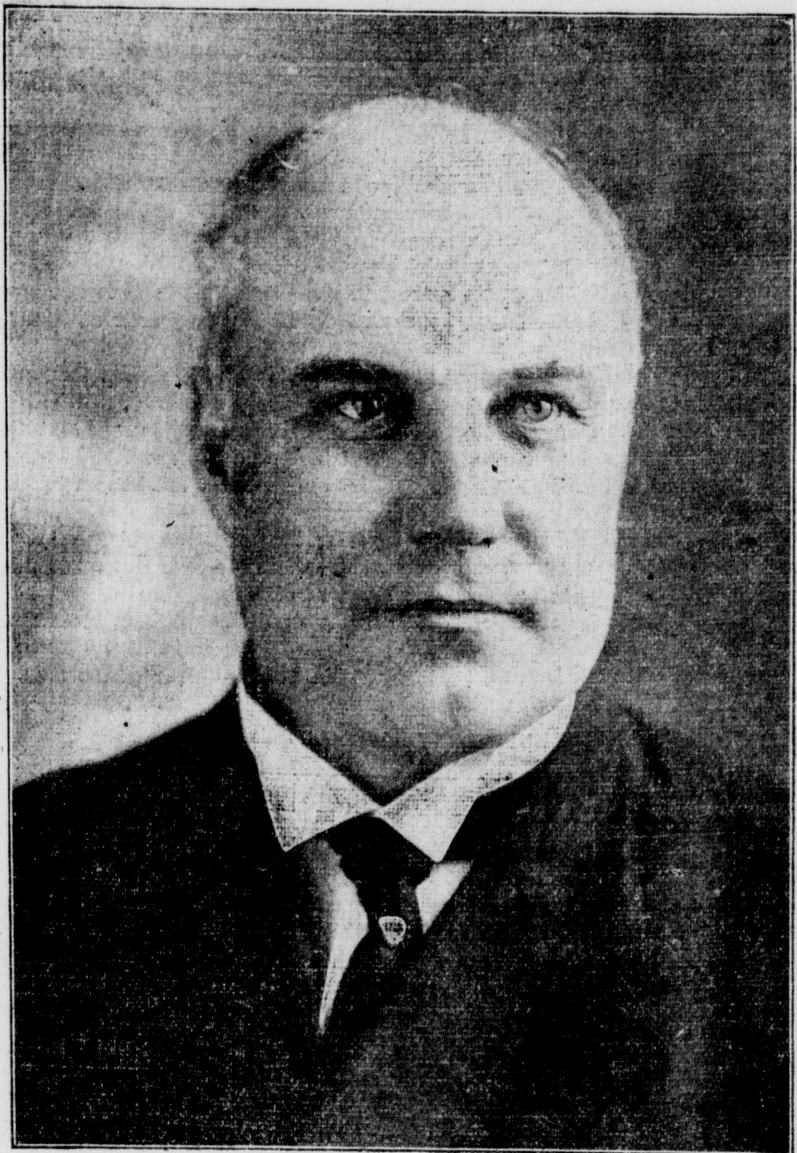

As a representative for more than twenty years of about 2500 actual water users in Orange county, and as a member for several years of the Tri-Counties Reforestation Committee, an organization of water users of the counties of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange, taking water from the Santa Ana river, I have had occasion to scan critically (and sometimes oppose) all the proposed Water Commission acts, from the Works bill, proposed many years ago, down to and including the present Water Commission act; and I desire to state briefly, through your columns, to the actual water users of Southern California, my views of the facts in controversy:

The Present Water Law of California

Water, like mines and land, is acquired from the government under laws of the United States allowing its appropriation. Title to mines and lands is secured by making an entry thereon, a written application therefor and upon fulfillment of conditions provided in the law (as residence in the Homestead Act, reclamation in the Desert Land Act, or development work in the Mining Act) and making proof thereof, a patent is issued by the government, which, being recorded, is a complete proof of title.

In the case of water, however, the United States and state of California

What the Biggest Democrat in All California Says of Gov. Johnson

"GOVERNOR JOHNSON has done the things as Governor of California that I hoped to do when I was a candidate for Governor of this state."

--Franklin K. Lane, U. S. Secretary of the Interior

have passed laws allowing its appropriation, but providing no means for proof of the acts of appropriation or of a patent or record of the title so acquired. THERE IS, THEREFORE, NO RECORDED TITLE TO WATER IN CALIFORNIA.

Under the treaty of peace with Mexico by which California was acquired, and an act of congress passed to enforce it, a commission was created to segregate the public from the private lands in this state. And that commission very carefully and successfully segregated all the great ranchos and grants which had been made by the Mexican and Spanish governments to private parties and confirmed them by patents, leaving the remainder of the state as a public domain. This has since been mostly surveyed and great portions patented to private owners.

But the public waters have never been segregated from the private waters, and there is great uncertainty and confusion as to what waters are public and what private. Moreover, there are two—indeed, three—kinds of water rights in California: Pueblo rights, such as those of Los Angeles; riparian rights and appropriation rights. To determine and settle these unrecorded, complex and yet invaluable rights throughout the state, constant and costly litigation has been necessarily carried on for many years without producing any general or satisfactory system of settled record titles, such as we have for lands.

Objects of the Water Commission Act
 Under these conditions the Conservation Commission of this state, which was charged by law with the duty of preparing and presenting to the legislature a suitable law upon the subject of water rights, felt it to be its duty to provide a statute that would provide means for:

1. Segregating the public from the private waters of the state.
2. The appropriation for proper purposes of the public (or remaining) waters, under such regulation as would INSURE THEIR BENEFICIAL USE AND GIVE A RELIABLE RECORD TITLE TO THEIR OWNERS.
3. A more complete, systematic, speedy and cheap method of ascertaining and adjudicating the water rights upon any stream, lake or other body of water in this state than is now provided by the ordinary procedure in courts.

How it Was Prepared

Fully realizing the great difficulties and importance of the task, the immense value of the interests involved and the different points of view as to the methods to be used, the Conservation Commission held open meetings in the cities of San Francisco, Los Angeles and elsewhere at which all interested were invited to attend and give their views.

I attended the meetings at San Francisco and Los Angeles and several meetings which were held by the Tri-Counties Reforestation Committee and devoted solely to the consideration of the proposed water bill.

At San Francisco Frank Short, attorney for the power companies and for the great Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company, and Mr. Nages, the manager of the great irrigation company, were present, took a leading part in the discussion and made many valuable suggestions as to the legal and practical requirements for the law. S. C. Wiel, author of "Well on Water Rights," also was present and made many valuable suggestions.

At the Los Angeles meetings able attorneys and others representing water users throughout Southern California presented and urged their views upon the commission. In these meetings the commission asked that suggested amendments should be left with them in writing, and after this had been done, the bill was re-drafted by the commission, incorporating many of these amendments, and again presented, until when it was presented to the legislature it had probably received the formative influence of more diverse minds and points of view than any other bill ever presented to that body. But the process did not end here. After its introduction into the legislature, the committees to whom it was referred gave extended public hearings and the most careful consideration to all desiring to be heard. The act was repeatedly amended and finally passed.

The Result
 What was the result of this long consideration and careful co-laboration in preparing and passing the bill?

1. The Water Commission Act is a safe one. It does not attempt to disturb vested rights, but takes them as they are and tries to improve upon our methods of ascertaining and administering them.

2. It provides a practical and competent body to act: (a) As an agency of the state in ascertaining and determining its own rights in the waters of the state; (b) as an administrative body, regulating the appropriation of the remaining public waters of the state and giving record title thereto, and (c) as a special referee of the courts to economically and expeditiously assist them in settling all water rights and making a reliable record title thereof.

3. It provides some very salutary and yet safe rules and presumptions which will operate equitably and beneficially in the future, in protecting all present beneficial use and preventing improper interference therewith. On the whole, the Water Commission Act, in my opinion, presents a very carefully prepared, fair and safe experimental method of protecting present water users and vested rights, and providing for the largest possible beneficial use of all our water resources, and it should receive the support of all our electors at the coming election.

Respectfully yours,
 E. E. KEECH.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLAR RANCH TRANSFER

The Ed. More Eighty Acres Sold to E. Kettler of Oxnard

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 24.—The Santa Ana-Huntington Beach stage has been discontinued pending the completion of the Fifth street improvements at Santa Ana.

Huntington Beach lodge, No. 311, Knights of Pythias, has voted unanimously to surrender its charter. There were about thirty members but not all were active in maintaining the lodge.

The following election judges have been appointed for the election November 3:

Precinct No. 1, Huntington Inn—Judges, George W. Wardwell, C. H. Howard; inspectors, W. D. Seeley, W. S. Hill; clerks, C. S. Bundschuh, C. A. Paul.

Precinct No. 2, City Hall—Judges, L. M. Lindsley, M. E. Helme; inspectors, E. R. Williams, Henry C. Decker; clerks, T. R. Canady, H. T. Sundbye.

One of the largest real estate transfers closed in this vicinity for some time was the sale of the Ed Moore ranch north of the city to E. Kettler, a bean grower from Oxnard who intends removing to this city and devoting the ranch to the growth of lima beans. The ranch consists of 80 acres of peat land and the sale price was approximately $40,000.

E. C. Rittue, the beet expert of the federal government, who has been working with the beet growers of Southern California for several months past has been secured for an address to the public at the high school Friday, November 6 at 11:30 a. m. Beet growers from all sections of Orange county will be welcome.

Mrs. Arthur E. Paine and Mrs. Robert Kegg have issued invitations to the teachers in the high and grammar schools to a Halloween party Thursday evening, October 29.

The social given by the Loyal Be- reans at the Christian church Friday evening was attended by more than fifty members and friends of the class.

The Brazamon Realty Company of Los Angeles will develop water and later have the market a subdivision known as Fairview addition to Huntington Beach. The property lies north of the Holly sugar factory.

A Villoneal, while removing his threshing outfit from this section suffered a serious injury. As the engine was crossing a ridge one mile north of Talbert it approached too near the bank and rolled into the ditch. Serious lacerations of the flesh and loosening of the muscles were the worst of his injuries. S. E. Talbert with his caterpillar pulled the engine out of the ditch.

The Woman's Club holds its next meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl A. Johnson at Eleventh and Walnut streets. The program consists of papers on the following subjects: "Imperial Government and Royal Family," Mrs. H. L. Heffner; "Local and Provisional Government," Mrs. W. T. Newland; "Elections in Germany," Mrs. H. B. Little.

R. M. Bagby, recently from Pulaski county, Ill., has purchased a lot in the Garfield addition and will build a residence thereon.

The sophomore reception to the freshmen class at the high school proved as successful an occasion as could possibly have been expected. Nearly the entire membership of the school, both faculty and students, were present and enjoyed the entertainment prepared. Ice cream and cake were served.

Miss Mary Epinette, sister of Alice Epinette, until recently a student at the high school died in a hospital at Los Angeles of appendicitis and was buried at that place. The Epinettes were on their way to Chowchilla when Miss Mary was suddenly taken ill and caused them to stop in Los Angeles.

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Santa Ana

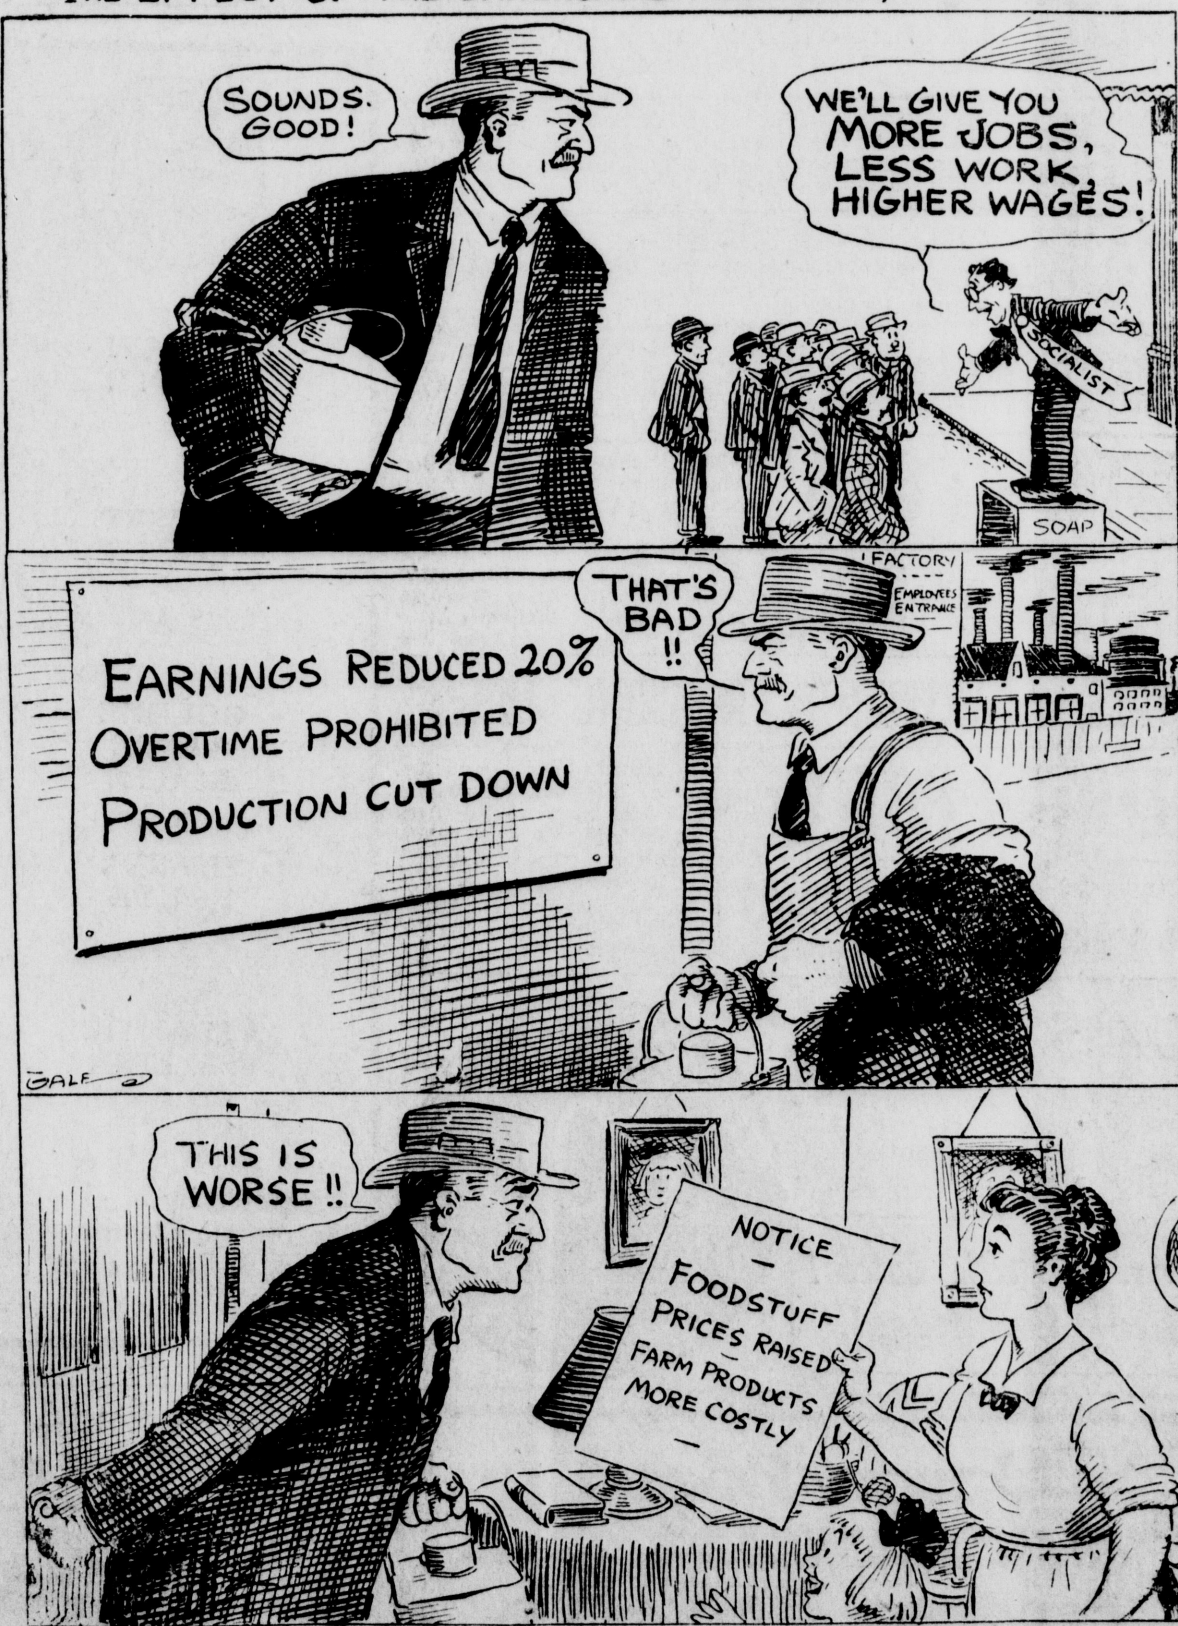

Because it's the evidence of a Santa Ana citizen.

Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit.

The best proof. Read it: Mrs. Blanche Perry, 611 W. Second St., Santa Ana, says: "For years I had kidney trouble. My back ached most of the time. A dull ache over my kidneys kept up day and night. I felt tired and worn out and my kidneys were weak and irregular in action. I was in a bad way when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon drove away all the trouble with my back and kidneys. I am certainly grateful for this cure."

ORANGE WINS FROM FULLERTON JUNIORS

(Special Correspondence)
ORANGE, Oct. 26.—Playing a slashing game, the Orange Athletic Club basketball team lowered the colors of Fullerton Junior College Friday evening on the local floor. It was the opening game of the season and went to the home team by score of 43 to 18.

The locals started out in mid-season form and piled up an early lead. They showed down somewhat toward the close of the half but kept things going their own way. In the second half the locals had their subs working and the game was more even, though Orange increased their lead.

The teams lined up as follows: Orange—Semus, Park, Thompson and Arp, forwards; Pine, Semus and Watson, center; Slater, Pister, Watson, Peterkin and House, guards. Fullerton—Ortega and Emery, forwards; Hale and Starbuck, centers; Johnson and Walling, guards. Emery of Fullerton, refereed.

A stag party celebrating the wedding anniversary of E. A. J. Mueller took place at the Fourth Crossing in the Santiago Canyon Thursday evening.

It was a memorable occasion both to Mr. Mueller and his guests and will doubtless be treasured in the recollections of those who attended.

Mr. Mueller was installed as chairman and speaker of the evening and a gay time ensued. The guests heard several recitations by Mr. Mueller and managed to take care of large supplies of black coffee, cheese, brown bread, blue dill pickles, olives, not to mention forty-five pounds of porterhouse steak. All of this was followed by cigars with which the men concluded the evening in supreme content.

Those who made up the party were: E. A. J. Mueller, W. M. Brown, D. A. Blank, E. W. Bouinger, C. C. Youngs, W. G. Hagen, C. W. Eastin, Teddy Tetziarf, N. T. Edwards, K. E. Watson, A. H. THE TRUTH ABOUT THAT CONFERENCE FOR ARBITRATION ON ASSEMBLYMAN

A QUESTION OF VERACITY

(From Anaheim Daily Herald, Oct. 17.)

The story is being circulated throughout the county that Edward Chaffee, the prohibition candidate for assemblyman, was willing to eliminate himself as a candidate if an impartial arbitrator or arbitrators should so determine.

This statement is published in the Garden Grove News and it is not true. Mr. Chaffee, accompanied by W. E. Perry, editor of the Garden Grove News, and S. C. Holt, also of Garden Grove, came over to Anaheim on Saturday, September 5, and secured a conference with Mr. Hartranft and several of the supporters of that candidate, ostensibly for the purpose of having one or other of the two candidates withdraw.

The conference was held in the office of L. A. Evans in this city. Mr. Perry made the proposition that each candidate appoint three arbitrators, the six so selected to appoint a seventh. As it might happen that the six so selected would perhaps be deadlocked in selecting the seventh arbitrator, everybody present in the conference agreed upon a certain citizen of this county as the seventh member of the arbitration committee.

Mr. Hartranft was then asked whether in the event that these seven men, by a majority vote, decided that he should withdraw, he would do so and support Mr. Chaffee.

Mr. Hartranft promptly said that he would do so. Mr. Chaffee was then asked whether, in the event that these seven men, by a majority vote, decided that he should withdraw, he would do so and support Mr. Hartranft.

Mr. Chaffee said that he would not do so, giving as his reason that as a party candidate he could not consistently do so.

The editor of the Garden Grove News was present and knows that the above is a true statement of what happened in that conference. The statements published by him in his paper are not only untrue, but known to him to be untrue.

The Daily Herald asks Mr. Chaffee and Mr. Holt to state publicly in the newspapers of this county whether or not the Garden Grove News has misrepresented what happened at the conference in question.

We also invite others who were present at that conference to state over their signatures whether or not the Garden Grove News has told the truth. The truth, after all, is more important than the candidacy of the man. Let us get this thing on a basis of truth.

THE ABOVE STATEMENT VERIFIED

(From Anaheim Daily Herald, Oct. 19.)

Editor Anaheim Daily Herald.

Dear Sir:—With reference to the editorial in your paper on Saturday, October 17, entitled "A Question of Veracity," we desire to state as follows:

We were present at a conference in the office of L. A. Evans in the city of Anaheim on Saturday, September 5, at which there were also present Mr. Hartranft, Mr. Chaffee, Editor Perry of the Garden Grove News, and Mr. C. S. Holt, also of Garden Grove. Messrs. Chaffee, Perry and Holt had come from Garden Grove to seek such a conference with the view of securing an arbitration between Messrs. Chaffee and Hartranft in order that one of them might withdraw from the race for assemblyman. At least, this is what they informed us was their object in seeking the conference.

As stated by you in the Anaheim Daily Herald of last Saturday, an agreement was reached whereby each of the two candidates should name three arbitrators, a seventh one being agreed upon by all present at the conference. Mr. Hartranft then agreed that if a majority of these seven arbitrators so decided, he would withdraw in favor of Mr. Chaffee and support him for election publicly.

Mr. Chaffee on the other hand, after seeking this conference and agreeing to the personnel of the arbitrators, said that he could not withdraw from the race if these arbitrators decided that he should do so.

We have read the statements made in the Garden Grove News regarding this matter, and we denounce the same as being absolutely untrue. That paper represents that Mr. Chaffee sought arbitration and that Mr. Hartranft refused.

The truth is that Mr. Chaffee sought the arbitration in this conference; that Mr. Hartranft agreed; that the arbitrators were agreed upon; and that then Mr. Chaffee refused to go on with what he had proposed.

The evident object of the publication of these falsehoods in the Garden Grove News is to try to induce voters to cast their ballots for Mr. Chaffee. If it should be successful, Mr. Chaffee would be receiving votes under false pretenses. Surely it is his plain duty as a man and as a citizen, to say publicly that the Garden Grove News has misrepresented this matter. If he fails to do so, then he cannot evade the stigma which will attach to his candidacy.

We trust that both Mr. Chaffee and Mr. Holt will join us in letting the public know the truth.

Sincerely yours for "California Dry,"

O. T. CAILOR,
L. A. EVANS,
F. J. BARNES,
A. A. MILLS.

The above letter fully substantiates the statements made in this paper last Saturday regarding the attempt to eliminate either Mr. Hartranft or Mr. Chaffee, and completely disproves the statements made in the interest of Mr. Chaffee by the Garden Grove News.

The conference was attended by Mr. Chaffee and Mr. Holt, both of Garden Grove, besides the editor of the Garden Grove News.

The Daily Herald would be glad to publish what Mr. Chaffee or Mr. Holt has to say regarding this conference.

We invite them to give their version, so that the voters may have the truth laid before them.

In the absence of any statement to the contrary from either Mr. Chaffee or Mr. Holt, the natural conclusion is that both these gentlemen admit the truth of the statements made in the Anaheim Daily Herald.
